

Sonic Spaceship Boarding Terms & Conditions

This space is sacred as a portal for movement within the planetary body.

This work is POTENT, so treat it as such.

There are no guidelines or rules but as in the atmosphere of space there are safety measures in place to keep us all safe.

One of these measures is by RANKS.

Each week you will be assigned a number (based on number of travellers). Ranks aren't competition based; it's based on landing CONCEPTS. This number will be your position for the week to encourage progress and LANDING of ideas, anchoring them into your Spaceship Body.

It will also be your point of contact if ever stuck in space. We can feel you, and as a collective form can lend assistance whenever needed.

If one member is left floating it affects the journey for all, so it's crucial to keep track of all passengers to enjoy a smooth journey through the body consciousness.

This doesn't mean we keep eyes on each other in co-dependency but rather feel into the symbiotic essence of natural connection.

We are each on individual journeys and it's through interdependence that we learn more about ourselves. 🚀

Extra's to remember:

- You are responsible for your experience within the spaceship i.e., full participation.
- You respect the knowledge and wisdom present by sharing your experiences boldly and honestly.
- You are in control of managing time-zones (we do our best to accommodate with replay's, but theses will not be available until after the portal ends).

You are birthing brand new perspectives to widen your creativity and this portal is a place to support and cultivate these new seeds of awareness, from body and breath to consciousness and beyond.

Signed,

Starship Base Command
